

REMARKS

Claims 1-12 and 21-50 are currently pending. As noted above, in this amendment, claim 1 has been amended and new claims 29-50 have been added. These new claims are fully supported throughout the Specification.

Claim 1 has been amended to correct a typographical error.

Also, please note that new independent claims 29 and 40 are means plus function versions of previously allowed independent claims 1 and 7.

Further, please note that new independent claims 30 and 41 are method claims directed to partitioning and loading data in a communication device, respectively corresponding to the subject matter of previously allowed independent system claims 1 and 7. Similarly, dependent claims 31-39 correspond to previously allowed dependent claims 2-6 and 21-24, while dependent claims 42-50 correspond to previously allowed dependent claims 8-12 and 25-28. As noted, previously presented independent claims 1 and 7 were previously allowed, and previously presented dependent claims 2-6, 8-12 and 21-28 were also allowed.

Thus, new claims 29-50 are allowable for at least the same reasons as allowed claims 1-12 and 21-28.

CONCLUSION

In view of the foregoing, it is respectfully submitted that the application and all of the claims are in condition for allowance. Reexamination and reconsideration of the application are requested.
